Root person:	John Fraser (1820 – 1909)
Description:	Family tree
Last updated:	2016 July 9
Prepared by:	Richard Middleton
Notes:	This includes both the Frasers of Glasgow and his first wife, Sarah Wilkes', families. John Fraser was closely associated through the Wilkes with the Manders of Wolverhampton. The family of his second wife, Charlotte Horton, is also included as there are links with Cradley, Worcestershire.

AN INDIAN ROMANCE - TWO PRINCESSES MARRY ENGLISHMEN. CALCUTTA. Thursday. The wedding was celebrated quietly yesterday of the Princess Sudhira, youngest sister of the Maharaja of Cooch Behar, and Mr. Alan Jocelyn Mander, of Wolverhampton. The register was signed by the Governor Bengal and the chief justice. The newly-married couple leave for England to-night. It may recalled that a brother of the bridegroom married a sister of the bride two years ago.—Central News. Mr. Alan Mander is the second son of the late Mr. S. J. Mander, Wightwick Manor, Wolverhampton. It is just two years since the bridegroom's elder brother, Mr. Lionel Henry Mander, was married at Calcutta to the bride's elder sister, Princess Pretwa of Cooch Behar. Mr. Alan Mander first met the Princess Sudhira, who is nineteen years old, in a London nursing home eight months ago. They became engaged, and when the Princess returned to India a few weeks ago with her mother Mr. Mander accompanied them. Cooch Behar is an Indian state, with an area of 1,291 square miles, and a population of half a million, its revenues amounting to about £112,000 a year.
