About Natstand family documents:

A Natstand family document is intended to provide background information concerning the family of a deceased naturalist. It is hoped that such information will form a framework which will help interpret their surviving correspondence, specimens and records. In some cases it will also give an insight into the influences on their early lives and the family constraints within which they worked and collected. We have found that published family data concerning individuals rarely contain justification for dates and relationships and not infrequently contain errors which are then perpetuated. The emphasis in Natstand family documents will be on providing references to primary sources, whenever possible, which will be backed-up with transcriptions.

Although a Natstand biography page will always carry a link to a family document, in many cases these documents will be presented without any further biographical material. We anticipate that this will occur if the person is particularly well known or is someone we are actively researching or have only a peripheral interest in.

The following conventions are used:

Any persons in the family tree with known natural history associations will be indicated in red type. Any relationships will be to the root naturalist unless otherwise stated.

Dates are presented Year – Month – Day

e.g. 1820 March 9 or 1820.3.9
1820 March or 1820.3

Dates will be shown in bold type if a reliable reference is presented in the document. In cases where an exact year cannot be given (e.g. it is derived from an age at death), the date will be presented in normal type and preceded with "c" – e.g. c1798. There are some cases where a date is available from a secondary source only (e.g. a published obituary), in these cases it will be presented in italics – e.g. 1823.7.21

Data sources:

Census data have been used, whenever possible, to confirm relationships; they are not considered a reliable source of data concerning age. Contemporary newspaper family notices are considered as reliable sources of relationships and dates; reports and obituaries are treated more cautiously. Parish records generally provide a reliable source of data and digitised images have been used whenever possible. Any difficulties with transcription will be made clear. In some cases only transcripts have been available; errors here are usually confined to spelling. The most important source of this material is the International Genealogical Index compiled by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Utah. National Civil Registration Indexes are considered reliable, as are probate records.

Elizabeth Chandler (1818 – 1884)

Elizabeth was the daughter of farmer and auctioneer Henry Whateley Chandler, although he rarely used the "Whateley" which was his paternal grandmother's maiden name. He was a child of Samuel and Sarah Whateley of Kineston, Warwickshire. Her mother was a daughter of William and Mary Hearn of Grendon Underwood. Henry and Elizabeth were married by licence at Grendon Underwood in 1814.

Elizabeth Chandler was born in 1818 and although her place of birth is usually taken as being Hinton-in-the-Hedges, Northamptonshire, it seems likely that it was actually Willaston Farm near Mixbury, Oxfordshire (standardised here with the modern spelling Willaston). Willaston House is also the place of birth given in the 1851 census and since the information would have been provided by either herself or her mother it seems likely to be correct. All other census returns, although varying in detail, give a place of birth consistent with this Oxfordshire farm.

Very soon after her birth the family moved to Hinton-in-the-Hedges where two younger siblings were baptised. By August of 1827 her father was handling the sale of Finmere House, a large property which had been intermittently advertised as vacant since 1820. His youngest daughter, Sarah, was born at Finmere House in 1828. Henry's stay at Finmere was tragically short and while working in his harvest field in late August of 1830 he collapsed with a brain haemorrhage. Although briefly rallying, he died two days later on 28th August leaving a wife and large family. It appears that he had been financially stretched and by late September notices appeared in the press advertising Finmere house was to be let with immediate possession. None of his children was yet old enough to take charge of the estate.

There is little evidence relating to Elizabeth's life over the next decade but by 1841 the census returns show that Elizabeth and her mother were living with a single servant in Castle Street, Buckingham. The large family had clearly dispersed. By 1861 Elizabeth and here mother are living in Wycombe with her married younger sister, Sarah Small, the wife of Dr William Charles Small. In 1864, the year of her mother's death, Elizabeth Chandler submitted a gold medal winning entry to the RHS's British Botanical Competition, despite the fact that she had signed a letter of objection to the competition earlier in the year.

Elizabeth Chandler may have had a greater influence on British botany than is readily apparent from her own specimens. James Britten (1846 – 1924), of the British Museum of Natural History and long-time editor of the Journal of Botany, had originally intended to enter into medicine and he spent four years with a doctor in High Wycombe before moving to become an assistant in the herbarium at Kew. It is clear that the doctor concerned was, or was well known to Elizabeth's brother-in-law, Dr W. C. Small. It may also explain why her collection is now housed in BM. The High Wycombe Natural History Society was very active around this time and included the Rev William Hunt Painter, who became curate of High Wycombe in 1865; ABS contains many specimens that he collected in High Wycombe in that year. Despite Painter's Anglican theological influence, Britten was received into the Roman Catholic Church in 1867! Britten edited two volumes of the Quarterly Magazine of the Natural History of High Wycombe.

Dr Small was a significant member of The High Wycombe Natural History Society but both his health and professional standing were somewhat precarious. He certainly spent periods out of the country and his whereabouts for the rest of the century are uncertain. (See Appendix 1) He certainly seems to have been alive until at least 1899 but his wife Sarah appears to have died before Elizabeth.

In 1871 Sarah Small and her daughter are boarding with Dr Rowland Bowstead, once her husband's assistant, in High Wycombe. Elizabeth is visiting Sarah Haslop (the widow of Dr George Harvey Haslop) in Buckingham but there is no indication of her usual residence. By 1881 Elizabeth Chandler is living with James Britten at 3 Gumley-row, Isleworth. This is the address given as her permanent address in the Probate Register entry concerning her death on 1884 April 29. Her will was proved by her niece Catherine Frances Elizabeth Small.

1830 September 4: Oxford Journal

On Saturday last died, at Finmere, near Buckingham, of an effusion on the brain, after only 48 hours' illness, Mr. Henry Chandler, auctioneer and appraiser, aged 43. He was working in his harvest field on Wednesday, and, as was natural to him, was particularly cheerful in the evening. At three o'clock on Thursday morning he was seized with a most intense head-ache, which convinced him that nothing but immediate loss of blood could save him, and he requested a neighbour to bleed him freely with a pen-knife before medical aid could reach him. This and subsequent bleeding so far restored him as to enable him the following morning to express his thankfulness to the Almighty for "preservation, and all the blessings of this life." After a few hours of apparent amendment and consciousness, he sunk rapidly into a state of insensibility and expired, leaving a widow and seven children to regret their irreparable loss.

NEWTON ABBOT – BOARD OF GUARDIANS

THE CLERK (Mr J. Alsop), next read a letter which he had received from a solicitor, named Prestage, acting in behalf of Mr W. C. Small, formerly medical officer to this Board at Shaldon, but who now occupies a similar position under the Guardians of the Highwycombe Union, stating that, as certain charges of a frivolous and vexatious nature had recently been made to the Poor Law Board in reference to Mr Small's character as a medical officer, it would be extremely desirable as well as satisfactory to that gentleman, if the Newton Board would favour him with a testimonial both as regards his professional and moral conduct during the period in which he was engaged by them.

[They responded that if Dr Small wanted a reference he should ask himself, not through a solicitor.]

Mr Grenville Pigott, the inspector appointed by the Poor Law Board to investigate the charges of misconduct preferred by Sophia Chalfont and Mary Bartlett against Mr Small, the medical officer of this Union, held his inquiry, on Thursday, in the board-room of the Saunderson Workhouse...

Sophia Chalfont was the first witness called. She said – I am a married woman and my husband is a labourer. We now reside at West Wycombe. I shall have been married 17 weeks on Sunday next ... He took his seat on the bed and tried to kiss me...

Mary Bartlett, who said – I am unmarried, and the daughter of James Bartlett, of Booker, with whom I reside; I am twenty-one years of age; ... he caught hold of my hand and tried to kiss me ...

WYCOMBE, BOARD OF GUARDIANS - LEAVE OF ABSENCE FOR MR SMALL – The Chairman read a letter from Mr W. C. Small the house surgeon stating that in consequence of ill-health it was absolutely necessary for him to go abroad, and that he therefore requested the Board to grant him leave of absence; his friend, Dr. Bousted, had been already nominated as his substitute, and offered his services during his (Mr Small's) absence. Mr.

Boustead had been known to the guardians for eight years, and had gained the good feeling of the poor. (A long list of Mr Boustead's testimonials was enclosed.) The application was granted, and Mr Boustead, M.D., M.R.C.S., L.A.C., appointed as Mr Small's loco tenems.

[This suggests that Rowland Bowstead had been Small's assistant since 1855.]

1865 June 3: Bucks Herald

MR. SMALL'S ABSENCE. The Chairman said no reply had been received from the Poor-law Board to their communication asking if the previous letter referring to the district of West Wycombe also applied to the Union House. He must say he thought they did not stand right in this matter; they had no legally appointed medical officer for the West Wycombe district, and as Mr. Small had held the office at the Union House, that must also be vacant. Dr. Bowstead had been performing the duties, but by whose authority? This state of things thought should be altered at once, Mr. Gibbons said he had moved a resolution that no advertisements should be inserted in the newspapers for a medical officer until a reply to their communication had been received from the Poor-law Board. He now gave notice that in case the Poor-law Board did not reply, he should move that that resolution be rescinded and advertisements inserted. Mr. Gibbons moved that the letter relating to Mr. Small previously received should be entered on the minutes.

1865 December 2: Bucks Herald

WYCOMBE BOARD OF GUARDIANS – RESIGNATION OF MR SMALL – The Clerk read a letter from W. C. Small, Esq., resigning his post as the medical officer to the Union House, stating that he had been induced by the state of his health to seek a residence in a warmer climate. Until his successor was appointed his deputy, Dr. Bowstead could perform the duties. Mr Gibbons moved, and Mr Williams seconded. That Dr Bowstead be appointed to do the duty in the interval, which was carried.

WYCOMBE. Natural History Society.—The third meeting of the present session was held on Tuesday, January 7th, the house of John Parker, jun., Esq. Tea and coffee were kindly provided half-past six p.m., after which the objects exhibited were inspected. These included a large book of dried specimens of New Zealand ferns, brought by Mr. Small; ... The secretary read a paper on the order Leguminosa, in which he referred to the characteristics of that important order, and described several of its more common representatives; this was illustrated by common drawings, as well as by Miss Chandler's dried specimens. ...

[This shows that Dr Small had returned to Wycombe and that he was interested in Botany – HLU has a similar volume of New Zealand ferns.]

1868 February 25: Proceedings of the High Wycombe Natural History Society

FIFTH EVENING MEETING, FEBRUARY 25. – Held at the house of Mrs Small, by her kind permission. The Secretary {James Britten} read a paper "On Forget me-nots," ... this will be found in Science Gossip for next month.

[This snippet links three important players – Elizabeth Chandler, her sister Sarah Small and James Britten (Secretary). The use of "the house of Mrs Small" suggests that Dr Small was not a usual resident.]

1876 July 21: *Lincolnshire Chronicle

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES ACT ... There were two beds in the same room – Mr W. C. Small, M.R.C.S, living at Fulbeck, said that on 6th July he saw Mary Ann Hubbard about a quarter to 11, at Frieston. To all appearances she was suffering from scarlatina of a very low kind. ...

[This is interesting as it gives Charles' place of residence. It is a coincidence that it is in the same vicinity that Caroline Ann Shield (Oakeshott) had lived.]
