About Natstand family documents:

A Natstand family document is intended to provide background information concerning the family of a deceased naturalist. It is hoped that such information will form a framework which will help interpret their surviving correspondence, specimens and records. In some cases it will also give an insight into the influences on their early lives and the family constraints within which they worked and collected. We have found that published family data concerning individuals rarely contain justification for dates and relationships and not infrequently contain errors which are then perpetuated. The emphasis in Natstand family documents will be on providing references to primary sources, whenever possible, which will be backed-up with transcriptions.

Although a Natstand biography page will always carry a link to a family document, in many cases these documents will be presented without any further biographical material. We anticipate that this will occur if the person is particularly well known or is someone we are actively researching or have only a peripheral interest in.

The following conventions are used:

Any persons in the family tree with known natural history associations will be indicated in red type. Any relationships will be to the root naturalist unless otherwise stated.

Dates are presented Year – Month – Day

e.g. 1820 March 9 or 1820.3.9
1820 March or 1820.3

Dates will be shown in bold type if a reliable reference is presented in the document. In cases where an exact year cannot be given (e.g. it is derived from an age at death), the date will be presented in normal type and preceded with "c" – e.g. c1798. There are some cases where a date is available from a secondary source only (e.g. a published obituary), in these cases it will be presented in italics – e.g. 1823.7.21

Data sources:

Census data have been used, whenever possible, to confirm relationships; they are not considered a reliable source of data concerning age. Contemporary newspaper family notices are considered as reliable sources of relationships and dates; reports and obituaries are treated more cautiously. Parish records generally provide a reliable source of data and digitised images have been used whenever possible. Any difficulties with transcription will be made clear. In some cases only transcripts have been available; errors here are usually confined to spelling. The most important source of this material is the International Genealogical Index compiled by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Utah. National Civil Registration Indexes are considered reliable, as are probate records.

KESWICK ARTIST DEAD

Inventor of Face Masks for Wounded Warriors.

Mr. Dement Wood. R.A.. died in London yesterday. The son of an American father and an English mother, Francis Derwent Wood, was born in 1871, at Keswick. He married Florence Schmidt, an Australian singer. He was a National Scholar under Prof. Lauteri, at South Kensington, and then assistant to Prof. Legros for two years at thu Slade School.

After working with Thomas. Brock. R.A. and winning an award at the Paris Salon in 1897. he was appointed modelling master at the Glasgow Art Schools. When the war broke out he enlisted in the R.A.M.C. (T.) and joined the 3rd London General Hospital at Wandsworth, under Sir E. (then Col.) Bruce- Porter. Mr. Wood was first orderly then sergeant. He found that ex-soldiers who, were extremely disfigured facially, were almost valueless in the labour market, so he made them face masks, which were difficult to distinguish from real living faces. The War Office thought highly of his work, and he was given a commission, and placed in charge of the Masks, for Facial Wounds Department.

Professor of Sculpture at the Royal College of Art, South Kensington, Mr. Derwent Wood's most famous piece of work is the statue of "David," in the Machine Gunner's Memorial at Hyde Park Corner.
