About Natstand family documents:

A Natstand family document is intended to provide background information concerning the family of a deceased naturalist. It is hoped that such information will form a framework which will help interpret their surviving correspondence, specimens and records. In some cases it will also give an insight into the influences on their early lives and the family constraints within which they worked and collected. We have found that published family data concerning individuals rarely contain justification for dates and relationships and not infrequently contain errors which are then perpetuated. The emphasis in Natstand family documents will be on providing references to primary sources, whenever possible, which will be backed-up with transcriptions.

Although a Natstand biography page will always carry a link to a family document, in many cases these documents will be presented without any further biographical material. We anticipate that this will occur if the person is particularly well known or is someone we are actively researching or have only a peripheral interest in.

The following conventions are used:

Any persons in the family tree with known natural history associations will be indicated in red type. Any relationships will be to the root naturalist unless otherwise stated.

Dates are presented Year – Month – Day

e.g. 1820 March 9 or 1820.3.9
1820 March or 1820.3

Dates will be shown in bold type if a reliable reference is presented in the document. In cases where an exact year cannot be given (e.g. it is derived from an age at death), the date will be presented in normal type and preceded with "c" – e.g. c1798. There are some cases where a date is available from a secondary source only (e.g. a published obituary), in these cases it will be presented in italics – e.g. 1823.7.21

Data sources:

Census data have been used, whenever possible, to confirm relationships; they are not considered a reliable source of data concerning age. Contemporary newspaper family notices are considered as reliable sources of relationships and dates; reports and obituaries are treated more cautiously. Parish records generally provide a reliable source of data and digitised images have been used whenever possible. Any difficulties with transcription will be made clear. In some cases only transcripts have been available; errors here are usually confined to spelling. The most important source of this material is the International Genealogical Index compiled by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Utah. National Civil Registration Indexes are considered reliable, as are probate records.

Obituary – Botanical Exchange Club Report for 1920 vol 6 part 1. 105-6

ROGERS, Rev. WILLIAM MOYLE. Born at Helston, July 12, 1835, died at Bournemouth, May 26, 1920. He was educated at Helston Grammar School, and without having had a University training was admitted to priest's orders in South Africa by Bishop Gray in 1861. Returning to England he was Curate successively at Yarconme, S. Devon (1862-4); Holy Trinity, W. Cowes (1865); Upton-on-Severn, Worcestershire (1866-7); Chetnole (1868-9) and Woolland, Dorset (1869-72), where he married a daughter of Major Chadwick, of Chetnole. He was Vicar of Stapleford, Wilts, in 1872; Curate of Trusham, Devon, 1876-82; and Vicar of Bridgrule, Devon, 1882-5 (teste Crockford), when his health, never robust, broke down, and he retired to Bournemouth, where he resided till his death. The frequent changes of residence gave him the opportunity, of which he took full advantage, of investigating the flora of many areas, and a long list of articles on them have appeared in the Journal of Botany. From this it will be gathered that, even if Rogers had not specialised on Rubi, his contributions to Topographical Botany would have been important. He rendered substantial aid to Mansel Pleydell's Flora of Dorset, to Murray's Flora of Somerset, and I owe him gratitude for his welcome notes for the Floras of Oxfordshire and Berkshire. He was an energetic member of the Record Club from 1877. He joins the Botanical Exchange Club in 1883, and from that time till last year he remained a member and acted as a most painstaking and conscientious referee on Rubi, of which he was acknowledged British expert. This prickly genus in Smith's English Flora numbered 13 species in addition to R. acticus, which is probably an error. Since that time many botanists tried to investigate them – Bell-Salter, Lindley, Bloxam, Hort, Lees, Bagnall, Coleman, Leicester-Warren, Briggs, and notably Babington, who published a Handbook in 1869 which enumerated 45 species. Moyle Rogers, after prolonged, laborious work, left our British Rubi at about 120. Among the new species described by him are R. lacustris, Lettii, Leyanus, iricus, hibernicus, mollissimus, dunensis, anglicanus, echinatoides, raduloides, Griffithianus, dasyphyllus and Marshalli (this with Focke), beside numerous varieties and sub-species. Since the publication of Rogers' Handbook in 1900 two important works on European Rubi, those of Focke and Sudre, have appeared. It is somewhat striking that not a single one of Rogers' species is included in the List of 114 major European species given by Sudre; those mentioned being accorded a subordinate position as minor sub-species, or even lower grades. Whatever may be their ultimate position, one knows that it was only after the closest examination of specimens and minute and careful study that Moyle Rogers ventured to describe new species. Whether he took sufficiently into account the effects of recent or past hybridisation may be open to discussion, but this is neither the time nor the place to develop the question. One thing is obvious, that in a workable arrangement there must be greater grouping and a probable reduction in the number of major species than at present obtains. Moyle Rogers was at one time strongly drawn to Roses, on which he did useful work. Rubus Rogersii, named in his honour by the Rev. E. F. Linton, although not given by Sudre among the numbered European species, is placed subordinately to R. affinis W. & N. by Sudre, and not as a hybrid or variety. Focke gave it specific rank. Moyle Rogers was one of the kindest of men. He was gentle and considerate of others, disliked controversy, was the reverse of dogmatic, and was most painstaking, industrious and careful. The loss to this Exchange Club is indeed a grievous one, but he did his best to make it less severe by cheerfully putting his specimens and knowledge and experience at the service of the Rev. H. J. Riddelsdell, whom he wished to be his understudy. His own son, the Rev. F. A. Rogers, has his father's love of the science and has himself done most excellent work in African Botany. Although retired from parochial work, our member's services were always cheerfully given to the various parishes in Bournemouth, and the same kindly disposition which characterised his botanical life was eminently manifest in his sacred calling.

he had issue –

Elizabeth Paul Rogers (1820.1.1 -) 2nd daughter male Rogers (1822 -)
female Rogers (1823.9.1 -)

⁴ Montagu Arundel Jenner was apprenticed in the Merchant Navy in 1867 aboard the "Rajah of Cochin".

⁵ The birth of Algernon Jenner is not well indexed but his full name and details are provided by his US Naturalisation documents – Boston, Massachusetts. His American passport of 1921 carries his photograph and confirms that his father was Montagu Herbert Jenner. He first arrived in the US in 1878.

⁶ Rev Ernest Lascelles Jenner's birth taken from the 1939 Register of England and Wales. he was living in the Rectory at Penmaen, Swansea.

⁷ Edwin was a clerk in the Principal Registry, London. This profession is common in the family.

⁸ George (34) married Winnifred Arminta York (22) in Welland Ontario on 1917 May 7. He gives his full name as George Arundel Edwin Rogers, son of Edwin Thomas Rogers and Matilda Jane Gresham and his place of birth as Ramsgate, England. In 1911 his parents declared on the census form that they had had eight children, one of whom had died (Kathleen Dora). This means that "George Arundel Edwin Rogers" must be one of the remaining seven. With an optimistic estimate of his age befitting a man marrying a much younger woman, this seems to fit Arundel Edwin Rogers who has disappeared from the general record before 1911. He seems to be concealing his true identity.

⁹ A Charles Albert Rogers died in Hamilton New Zealand in 1824, he was 84 years old and had been in The country from as early as 1864. The service record of Laurence Edwin Rogers, born in Hamilton New Zealand on 1890.10.23 gives his father as Charles Albert Rogers of Cornwall, England and mother as Elizabeth Jane Rogers of London England. In 1916 they had been in NZ for 50 years. This seems to be consistent.
